E-rate is complicated. But complying with CIPA's educational requirements doesn't have to be.

Common Sense Media created this toolkit to help your district or school address the Internet safety, appropriate online behavior, and cyberbullying topics E-rate recipients need to teach to students. Use it to guide your efforts in the 2012-2013 school year.

Turn your students into safe, smart, responsible digital citizens and help your school keep valuable federal support for technology at the same time!

Watch the overview tutorial, then access engaging lessons complete with plans, handouts, videos, assessments, and parent tip sheets.
